

Africana Studies

Film Series

Spring 2008

presents

“Payback”

The issue of reparations has become one of the most controversial of our times; yet, most of us do not have all the facts. This documentary addresses many of the historical, legal, economic, and social concerns surrounding reparations. This story is told from the heart-wrenching vantage point of a sharecropping family in South Carolina, who through Jim Crow, were thrown back into virtual slavery in modern day America.

Discussion Moderator: Adjunct Lecturer, Africana Studies

Johnny Bowens

Tuesday, April 8, 2008,

5:00 pm

Modern Languages 210

This film series is an extension of AFAS-300 - Historical Overview of African Cinema and Filmmaking. This series is open to students at the University of Arizona. For individuals not enrolled and would like to observe, please contact the Director prior to each screening.

For additional information please call 621-5665

