

Africana Studies Lecture Series

Spring 2008
presents

Moji Agha

Africana Studies, Visiting Scholar

The US-Iran Conflict: A Case of Colonialism "Poisoning" Modernity

Focusing on Iran's recent history, Mr. Agha will give concrete policy examples (specifically in regards to the US-Iran conflict) of how the process of modernization, as experienced by Islamic countries such as Iran, has been profoundly and negatively affected by the ill-intentioned practices of colonialism, and its post-world war II continuation to the present .

WEDNESDAY, April 23, 2008

12:00 PM - 1:50 pm
Modern Languages 413

All students are encouraged to attend

Free & Open to the public

For additional information, please call 621-5665

